WIDE-OPEN CANADA

NOT DRAWING TRADE

FALLING OFF RATHER THAN INCREASE REPORTED SINCE DOMINION WENT WET.

Westerville, O., July 24.—American traffic into Canada has shown an actual falling off instead of an increase since the opening of Ontario's government liquor stores, according to information collected by the Anti-Saloon League of America, and made public from the national headquarters of that organization here today.

WOMAN RUNS A MILE WHEN NEGROES ATTACK

EN ROUTE TO FLORIDA WITH HUSBAND WHEN COUPLE LOST THEIR WAY.

McRae, Ga., July 25.—Shut through the throat after her husband had been slain by robbers and thrown to the roadside from their automobile, Mrs. W. T. Andrews, a Canadian, several months before the inauguration of government control in Ontario, made arrangements for handling large numbers of American tourists, the statement said. Real estate prices at Windsor across from Buffalo and Cleveland jumped skyward, and it was freely predicted that a large fleet of boats would be required by the Detroit and Windsor Ferry Company to provide transportation for Americans who would be attracted by the policy of the Canadian government. According to officials of the Detroit and Windsor Ferry Company, statistics show that traffic has shown an actual falling off since Ontario's liquor law became effective.

"Several cities failed to notice any increase in passengers from the American side, that is traceable to any rush of customers to the Ontario liquor stores," said one of the executives of the ferry company, "and what is more we are not expecting any increase from this source."

"It is increasingly apparent," said the Anti-Saloon League statement, "that the Ontario experiment has not been unusually attractive to Americans. Figures also show that the Ontario experiment has made very little difference in the amount of illegal drinking and that the Ontario are operating as usual in competition with the government liquor stores."

FIVE DAYS' NOTICE

NO LONGER REQUIRED

Atlanta, Ga., July 25.—A bill repealing the present law requiring five days advertising in procuring licenses to wed as it affects persons over 21 was passed today by the Georgia House of Representatives. The measure already had passed the senate and will go to the governor for his signature.

One of the chief objections to the bill was overcome by an amendment attached by the house today providing that, where any question of the age of either contracting party arises, affidavits must be furnished to the county ordinary from at least two reputable citizens before the license will be issued. Adoption of this amendment by the senate was considered a mere formality.

The present law provides that marriage licenses shall not be issued to any couple, regardless of age, until five days after application has been made, and the intent to wed shall be advertised over that period of time. The new measure affects only persons of legal age.

Strong opposition to the measure developed among ministers over the state, and the Evangelical Ministers' Association of Atlanta went on record as against any change in the old law.

MANY LADIES WITNESS

ELECTRIC DEMONSTRATION

Many Statesboro ladies were guests of the Georgia Power Company during Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons at their electric cooking demonstration held in the Sea Island Bank building. Miss Vera Howard, special representative of the Edison Electric Company, had charge of the demonstration and her work was with the Hotpoint electric range. Under the greatly reduced rates, electricity is growing more popular in Statesboro, and the introduction of the new processes for electrically cooking and electrically freezing will make electricity more popular with the housewives.

Why is it that some men will drop a nickel in the contribution box on Sunday and expect to get enough religion for it to last them through the entire week?

MARK NORMAL CLOSING

DINING HALL IS SCENE OF LIFE AS MERRY-MAKING AMONG THE STUDENTS HOLDS SWAY.

Marking the close of the summer session of the Georgia Normal School, the exercises of last Thursday evening brought merriment to the 450 students and a number of invited guests.

Dinner was served in the dining hall, an elaborate and delicious meal, prepared under the skillful direction of Mrs. Clara Carithers, who has been in charge of the dining hall during the term.

The scene was set for merriment, which began almost as soon as the guests were seated and interspersed the entire meal. The various groups of the school—the Linderbachers, Campas Cates, Cyclones and Blue Devils—contested for points, each at intervals coming into the limelight with renditions of various kinds.

At the close of the meal a vocal clinic was staged wherein the individual members of the faculty were placed upon the surgeon's table for such remedial measures as their separate ailments called for. "Dr." Jack Durden wielded the surgeon's instruments—a butcher's saw, a carpenter's bit, a hatchet and various other implements with such effective skill that each patient arose from the table and walked away greatly improved if not entirely cured of whatever ailment. In this operation, each patient was depicted as ailing in the particular line which was his specialty.

Alfred Dorman, president of the Statesboro Chamber of Commerce, presented to the Linderbachers the silver loving cup offered by the Chamber of Commerce to that group scoring the highest number of points during the summer school. In addition to this, suitable cups of lesser value were presented to each of the other groups.

Director Mathews announced the list of fourteen graduates to whom diplomas were awarded. The class comprised Ben Bohannon, Annie Minnie Bohannon, Harold G. Bagby, Laura Elizabeth Dasher, Grace Daughtry, Frances Douglas, Lloyd Evans, Mamie Knight, Myrtle Lee Morgan, Blanche Greer Rowland, Bessie Thomas, Maude White, Eunice Meade, Osborne Banks.

Marking the close of the session Mrs. Carithers was presented a useful article as a token of appreciation from the school. Mrs. Carithers is retiring from her work, much to the regret of the management of the school.

Present at the affair were a number of Statesboro visitors who were called upon for brief talks. Among these were Alfred Dorman, Rev. J. E. Parker, W. E. McDougall and Fred T. Lanier.

MINSTREL FUN REVUE AT BROOKLET FRIDAY NIGHT

The "Dixie Minstrel Fun Revue" will be given in the new high school auditorium at Brooklet, Friday evening, July 29th, at 8:45 o'clock.

The program is divided into two parts, the first being a Dixie minstrel with a variety chorus of twelve girls, four men and an interactor.

The second part will be composed of four vaudeville acts.

The whole show is full of fun and frolic with pretty girls, peppy songs and a laugh every minute.

DORMAN IS HOST TO MAMMOTH EVENT

EIGHT HUNDRED FRIENDS ARE INVITED TO CELEBRATE HIS EIGHTH ANNIVERSARY.

Alfred Dorman was host to approximately eight hundred of his patrons and friends last Thursday at a celebration of his eighth year in business in Statesboro.

It was a big occasion, just such as only a man of Dorman's calibre and experience was capable of staging. The invitations directed his guests to assemble at his place of business in Statesboro, from whence the celebration proceeded. It was punctuated by 12 o'clock when a hunt and other guests began to register, and by 1 o'clock tickets had been issued to more than 650 persons and the procession began to move. From his office to Lake View Country Club was a steady stream of cars and there were found much more than a hundred guests who had come there direct, swelling the number to approximately 800.

The Statesboro orchestra made music while the plates were being prepared, and the music was followed by a boxing match in which two Statesboro athletes—Ed Martin and Wade Beasley—contended for honors and a small cash purse.

At the tables, waited upon by a committee of twenty odd ladies, barbecued pork and beef, Brunswick stew, bread, pickles and lemonade were served. The service was so perfect that there was little conversation as the line passed before the tables to have plates filled. The shade trees in the park brought comfort and for almost an hour the procession continued past the tables. There was plenty for everybody and some to spare.

Following the dinner there was a game of baseball at Statesboro and a target practice at the grounds of the gun club. All these attractions were free to Dorman's friends who were admitted by cards.

BULLOCH SUPERIOR COURT IN SESSION FOR THE WEEK

Bulloch superior court convened Monday morning and will continue through the remainder of the week. D. B. Franklin was chosen foreman of the grand jury and W. E. McDougall clerk.

Court recessed from noon yesterday till 9 o'clock this morning through respect for Judge J. P. Brannen, whose funeral will occur at 11 o'clock.

The time of the court has been largely taken up with the trial of three condemnation cases brought by the county commissioners in connection with the building of the new highway between Statesboro and Swainsboro by way of Port Republic.

The case against Tom Parker in connection with the failure of the Bank of Rocky Ford has been transferred from Screven county and is expected to be reached today.

JOHN SKELTON WILLIAMS VISITOR IN STATSBORO

John Skelton Williams, Jr., of Richmond, Va., now connected with the Georgia and Florida Railroad in the engineering department, spent two days in Statesboro last week with some other members of the engineering department. They were engaged in laying out the new station line on College street and the line connecting it with the present line tracks.

JENKINS COUNTY JUDGE VISITING IN BULLOCH

Hon. Willie Woodrum, judge of the city court of Millen, avowed candidate for judge of the superior court of the Ogeechee circuit to succeed Judge Strange, has been circulating among the people at court during the week. Announcement of his intention to seek the Ogeechee judgeship was published in the papers during the past few days, following almost immediately upon the similar announcement of Judge Strange.

Mr. Woodrum is a native of Bulloch county, having been reared near this city and having taught in the public schools of the county in early life. He has lived in Millen for the past twenty years. His wife is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Brannen, well known citizens of Statesboro.

A LEADING CITIZEN OF BULLOCH PASSES AWAY

JUDGE JOHN F. BRANNEN ENDS USEFUL LIFE AFTER LONG CONTINUED ILLNESS

John F. Brannen, aged 74 years, died at his home on North Main street in Statesboro at 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening. The end came quietly and peacefully at the close of a day during which he had seemed to rally, giving hopes of substantial improvement.

Funeral services will be held at Fellowship Primitive Baptist church near Stillton at 11 o'clock Thursday morning. The pallbearers will be, active, M. E. Grimes, S. J. Crouch, P. L. Williams, J. B. Everett, Mattie Allen and H. S. Parrish; honorary, S. C. Groover, W. B. Moore, D. B. Turner, E. H. Kennedy, R. F. Donaldson, A. E. Temple, W. D. Davis, A. M. Deal, Hinton Booth, R. R. Cons, L. W. Brown, J. W. Wright, J. M. Murphy and W. H. Ellis.

Mr. Brannen was born in Georgia and is survived by nine children. They are Jesse E. and Dr. Cliff Brannen, Atlanta; Will A. and Shell Brannen, Stillton; J. F. Brannen, Jr., Savannah; Mrs. F. A. Brinson, Millen; Mrs. J. W. Peacock, Eastman; Misses Anna and Nellie Brannen, Brannen, Statesboro; two brothers, M. S. Brannen, Stillton, and two sisters, Mrs. U. M. Davis and Mrs. C. H. Warnock, Stillton.

Judge Brannen was a native of Bulloch county. He was reared in the vicinity of Stillton, but moved to Statesboro thirty-two years ago. He was prominent in public affairs from his young manhood. Thirty-four years ago he represented the district in the Georgia state senate; later he was for two terms a member of the lower house of the legislature from Bulloch county. He was appointed judge of the county court upon its creation twenty-five years ago and for sixteen years he presided over that court. He was for two terms mayor of Statesboro and was one of the founders of the Sea Island Bank twenty-five years ago, and for fifteen years was president of that institution. He was for many years a member of the city board of education. He was one of the founders of the Statesboro Baptist church, in which he held membership at the time of his death. He had been a useful life, and his going is mourned by a large circle of friends and relatives.

NEVILLE TELLS FRIENDS WILL RUN FOR SOLICITOR

It is understood that W. G. Neville, young local attorney, has confided to his friends his intention to be a candidate for solicitor of the city court of Statesboro in next year's election. F. B. Hunter, the present solicitor, is serving his second term, and it is understood that he will probably also be a candidate for re-election. There has been in the air rumors that Cleve Jones, also a prominent attorney, may seek the office. Mr. Neville has twice in the past been a candidate and each time has made a strong race.

Why is it that every married woman feels that she earns every cent of her husband's salary?

SINGLE ANNOUNCES FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

MANY CONTESTS ON LOCAL GRID ARE INCLUDED IN COMPLETED SCHEDULE.

Football prospects for 1927 season look very bright for the Georgia Normal School. Fourteen of the fifteen letter men of last year's squad have already applied for admission. In addition to these, some noted high school athletes have applied. The line men of last year's returning are Bryant, last year's star tackle; Gay, end; Mathis, F. guard; Love, tackle, and Martin, guard. The new line men who are coming are Mobley from Millen, Underwood and other former high school stars. In the back field there will be a lively scrap for places among the following: Pritchard, one of the state's best athletes; Walters, last year's quarter; Jones, from Millen; Rushing (captain); Thayer, Metter's star full back; Griffin, Stillmore, and Willie Johnson, former star of E. C. I. There are others who are seeking admission and are planning to give the men mentioned a hard tussle for the position.

Captain Rushing is enthusiastic over the prospects of putting out a winning team.

The new coach, H. A. Woodie, is attending the football school in Alabama.

The new dean, Mr. Henderson, who is a former college football star, will also take an active part in athletics.

The following football schedule has been arranged for 1927:

- October 1, Douglas A. & M., at Douglas, pending.
- October 18, Tifton A. & M., at Statesboro.
- October 21, Benedictine College, at Statesboro.
- October 28, G. M. C. at Statesboro, pending.
- November 4, Richmond Academy, at Statesboro.
- November 11, Brewton-Parker Institute, at Statesboro.
- November 19, Piedmont Institute, at Waycross.
- November 24, Brewton-Parker Institute, at Mt. Vernon.

GAME WARDEN MURPHY LEADS IN CHASING FOXES

Game Warden Jack Murphy for the past three weeks has been leader of a squad of hunters who have waged relentless war upon the fox generation in this vicinity. Three foxes have already succumbed, and still others are doomed to fall during the next few days.

Three weeks ago Sam Harville, a young farmer living three miles north of Statesboro, reported the destruction of nine young trunks in one night. Three mornings later Mr. Murphy led an attack and captured one fox. The next day the mother trunks was taken away by foxes. Another onslaught by Mr. Murphy's crew last Saturday morning resulted in the killing of two more foxes. Today comes the report that Mr. Harville's den house has been visited and a grown fox carried away. The last hunt disclosed that there was a mother fox at the head of the mischievous brood, and this mother fox is still known to be at large. The next attack, which will be staged the last of this week, will be directed specially against her.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETS TUESDAY NIGHT

The regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held at the high school auditorium next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Supper will be served as usual. At this meeting there will be a delegation of important personages representing the Georgia Association from Atlanta who will make a presentation of their state-wide plans for the promotion of Georgia's advancement.

Nurse Advises WEAK, RUN-DOWN WOMEN To Take Cardui

"I have known of Cardui for nearly twenty-five years," says Mrs. Selma Malsen, 1072 Harrison Ave., Beaumont, Texas. "During those years, I have taken it several times and have frequently recommended it to others. For it is a splendid medicine and I am glad to give people the benefit of my experience."

"I have been a nurse for several years and have often come in contact with patients who were run-down and weak. Often I have told them of Cardui, and the way I, myself, had been helped after taking it, and advised them to give it a trial. Many of them have since thanked me for what I told them, so I am willing that other women should know about it, too."

"I first took Cardui because I was tired and was weak and listless. It was hard to keep going under such conditions, and I looked for something which would help me."

"I had read of Cardui and decided to try it. After taking it, I improved so much that I have taken it since whenever I needed a tonic."

COUNTY SCHOOL NEWS

Arrangements are being rapidly completed for the operation of the schools of the county for the term of 1927-28. Never before in our history have the citizens manifested keener interest in the successful operation of our schools than at the present time. We have come to realize the importance of having better schools as we have never before, and our citizens are more willing to pay the cost than at any time previous.

This year there is a decided falling off in property values in Bulloch, which will mean a proportionate falling off of revenue with which we shall operate next term. Our needs have increased materially and our source of revenue decreased steadily. This is a higher problem to finance many consolidated schools. We will have to find a way to operate efficiently the many good schools we are to have in the future.

On Wednesday, July 26th, the members of the county board of trustees held a joint meeting with the trustees of the schools of the county at the home of Fred W. Hodges (who is present of the county board), where all were served a barbecue dinner. An interesting meeting this was, such as we have never had before. The trustees were taken into full confidence and the burden of operating our schools was clearly shown to all who were present. Prof. Guy H. Wells and Rev. Dell made interesting talks before the combined boards.

After the meeting, an interesting talk, which was followed by a talk by Dr. Miller that was timely and to the point. Others made short talks that indicated hearty co-operation with the board of education. We feel that much good will come from this meeting as a result of the better understanding each will have with the other.

Not but a few weeks before the school trucks will be back on the job of hauling school children to and from the several schools. Summer vacation is the time to put all trucks into good shape. Every truck should have a new coat of good paint applied and the name of the school district in big letters printed on the body. A sober color, such as dark gray or slate with such trimmings as may please the individual will be appropriate. All truck operators are required to keep their bodies in good repair. This to be at the expense of the operator. Let pride in your school be a stimulus to you to put your truck body into first class condition during the summer. If curtains are worn and the glasses broken out, by all means replace all of these before time to begin school this fall.

Clippenrith school district voted on a local tax election this week. The result is not yet known. Will be reported at a later date. This new consolidation is making plans for the successful operation of a school in keeping with the needs of the progressive community embraced in the district. Quite a bit of wealth within the borders of the Clippenrith school district which will make it an easy matter to operate a good school at a reasonable cost.

New and modern stage scenery has been installed in the new Stillson high school auditorium at an approximate cost of $1,000, which has been paid for by the school management without touching one cent of the school's regular funds. It will be interesting to other schools of this county in need of stage scenery to learn how this was accomplished. The trustees, Dr. D. L. Deal, P. S. Richardson and J. B. Akins will give you information how you, too, may secure such scenery and how you may manage the payment without using your regular school funds. Stillson has surged to the front and expects to hold her place among the first of this section of Georgia.

When the time comes that Bulloch is to receive the money needed with which to operate her schools, we will rank foremost in the state. We now have six accredited schools in our county which go more than 100 miles to school. And each year adds many more to the already large enrollment. Bulloch is big and great as it is big in almost every sense of the word.

Those of you in Bulloch who expect to enter your boy or girl in the Georgia Normal College should make arrangements at an early date. You were told to make arrangements early this summer for the summer school or else you would not be able to get in, and sure enough, there were about two hundred who sought admission and were turned away. Make your arrangements early and get your children in one of the best schools in Georgia. We have just that now in the Georgia Normal. A class of teachers unexcelled.

PICKED UP ABOUT TOWN

"Don't judge men by their views," warns Albert Deal. "Judge the views by the kind of men that hold them."

Alfred Dorman says almost any man can make money, but it takes a wise one to keep it after he makes it.

Barney Averitt says it's time to take the cow-catchers off the railroad locomotives and substitute automobile nets.

Fred Fletcher says since Eskimos are now eating ice cream, and maybe the next generation will know what Eskimo pie is.

"About the only thing Americans agree on," declares Walter McDougald, "is that somebody else should get back to the farm."

"The electric chair has much to do with checking crime," says Rev. Granade, "but the proper place to begin is in the high chair."

Fate Donaldson says the mosquito leads a short life, but that the modern girl is dressing so the mosquito can make it a merry one.

"An examination will show," asserts Judge Proctor, "that a woman's handbag contains almost as many useless things as a man's pockets."

Judge Temples says the reason the divorce courts are kept so busy is because so many girls think it is more important to get a pair of balloon pants than a real man.

A Detroit burglar opened a jar of home-made preserves, which proved to be modern burglars have tools that will open anything.

"It is said that 20 per cent. of the male population of the United States now plays golf. Proving that 80 per cent. still can't figure out what it's all about," says Loren Darden.

Drivers of these new presidential booms should remember not to try any speeding until they are thoroughly loosened up.

NOTICE TO DEFAULTERS

Tax defaulters are hereby notified that I have begun levying tax executions for state and county taxes for the past year, and will proceed with vigor till all outstanding taxes have been collected. Those who wish to save the expense of levy may do so by calling at our office and making settlement at once.

FORMER PASTOR'S WIFE READS INTERESTING PAPER

"At a recent meeting of the Statesboro Christian Women's Union, held at the Presbyterian church, Mrs. E. J. Hertwig, widow of the Rev. E. J. Hertwig, former pastor of that church, read a paper entitled 'Erecting Barriers Against the Ima.' The ladies of the organization who heard the paper were so impressed with its merit that they have requested the Times to give it space, which we gladly do. It is as follows:

"Erecting Barriers Against the Ima. 'Not by might nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts,' and so it seems that in the fight against agnosticism, atheism, materialism and all the other isms that are threatening our fair land, it is not by legislation nor by force that we can hope to erect effective barriers against their onslaught, but by the power and might of the sword of the Spirit—God's word—instituted in the hearts of our men. About us everywhere we see the lack of reverence for God, a lack of respect for law and order, a growing materialism that worships the creature comforts and makes a god of money. A late digest carries the startling story of the junior athletic movement recently organized. This organization with its avowed object to undermine the churches and to drive God out of the schools has established chapters in 20 colleges and prep schools, has edged its way into three high schools and has with it. What is the result of this irreverence, this scoffing at God, this open defiance of constituted authority? We all know. Crime has increased 400 per cent. in the last fifty years. New York City leads Paris, London and Berlin in its ratio of crime to population. Chicago's record is unimpeachable. Recent experiments have developed the fact that 64 per cent. of our young people have dishonest tendencies and we all know the majority of the crimes are committed by our youth. What is the cause of this fearful state of affairs? Have we as parents the right to sit back and feel that we are not to blame for the situation? What did we do to help prepare our children to combat these things, to keep them erect barriers against the flood that threatens to overwhelm them? Why, we educated them."

"The eighteenth century closed with a belief in the efficiency of education and it was felt that universal education was a panacea for all ills. Never before in the history of the world has there been the influence in education that there is today. We can't build our public schools big enough or fast enough. Our colleges have long waiting lists. We make great sacrifices to see that our children have every educational advantage. Our schools are undergoing violent changes in method and curriculum to bring forth a socially efficient product. We teach them how to care for their bodies, we train their minds, we inculcate them with the arts and sciences that they may employ their leisure wisely, we care for their moral because honesty is the best policy, because it pays to tell the truth, because a clean body is its own reward. And what do we find? To quote Rabbi Hirsch we find that education has not decreased the criminal classes, but it has made them more dangerous. It gives them the power to harm without the moral force and will to restrain him from using that power. In educating the head and not the heart the public schools are failing at a critical point." G. Stanley Hall says, 'The American public school system is the most extensive, the most expensive, the best equipped and the least effective morally of any public school system in the world.' In other words we have taught the fact of life and how to make a living, but have not put the youth in touch with the source of most of the education, and the Bible was the principal text book. Even the colleges of those days and our early days as a republic were the offspring of religion. Out of the first 109 colleges established in the United States, the first 10 were founded by the churches. But after we had gained our independence and began to attract people of all nationalities and creeds to our shores, it was not found feasible to teach the Bible in the public schools that were an outgrowth of our democracy. Religious freedom is one of the foundation stones of our republic, therefore we cannot teach religion in a public school with teachers paid by public tax money in buildings built by that same public. Then what can we do to see that our children are brought up in the most vital and vitalizing force in life?"

"In the past the churches have tried to stem the tide with our Sabbath schools, and great has been the good that has been accomplished by those handicapped though they are by lack of time, teachers and adequate equipment. Judge Hancock of Brooklyn, says that of the 4,000 boys less than twenty-one years of age who were arraigned before him only three were members of Sunday school. In suspending 1,092 of them only sixty-two were brought back for violations of his parole. In each case he had insisted on attendance on Sunday school, mass or synagogue during the period of parole."

"But even with the best efforts of our churches, the Sunday school only reaches about one-fourth of our children, and as they are actually taught the Bible and religion to the children they have. They are so seriously handicapped; first of all, by lack of time. In the best regulated Sunday schools there are about thirty minutes of actual teaching time and what can be accomplished. A whole week has lapsed since the last lesson, much of the time has been spent in gathering up the threads of the last lesson, there is little time for effective up-to-date teaching of the Bible."

"In the second place we do not teach the most vital part of our field. In our country today there are 15,000,000 children of school age who are not connected in any way with any religious body. 'But the lack of knowledge of the Bible is not the only serious result of the lack of religious training. When our children begin to more or less consciously compare the stress we lay on their secular education and the secondary consideration that we give to matters of their religious training are they not compelled to draw one conclusion; that is that religion is not of much importance after all. When they are compelled to go to school 25 or 30 hours a week either by state or home or by both, when their curriculum includes everything in the world except religion, and when that same religion is relegated to a short time on Sunday, and in so many of our homes they are not always made to

A WESTERN MELODRAMA

SATURDAY AND MONDAY, July 30 and August 1st

NO MAN'S GOLD

With Tom Mix, Tony and Eva Novak. Adapted from the story, "Dead Man's Gold." A Lew Steller production. Tom and Tony stands for T. N. T. "No Man's Gold," Fox Film's latest release, starring Tom Mix, is a screen version of J. Allan Dunn's widely read novel of the desert. It has the mother lode of drama, taps the pay streak of romance, cross-cuts the lodge of pathos and pans out all the outcroppings of humor one could hope for in an evening's entertainment. Mix your entertainment with Mix—go and see "No Man's Gold." No fancy clothes in this, but a real western adventure with action, suspense and thrills in logical sequence. "WANDERING WILLIES," makes laughs contagious.

A ROMANTIC DRAMA

TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY, August 2nd-3rd

"AN AFFAIR OF THE FOLLIES"

With Billie Dove and Lloyd Hughes and Lewis Stone. Directed by Millard Webb. A romantic drama of a chorus girl who marries a poor youth, after a mild flirtation with wealthy men—then, there's the conflict in developing romance! The settings are beautiful. Billie Dove is extremely beautiful in her stage costumes. We call your special attention to the advance trailer on this picture. It will show you the extreme beauty of the picture. How do you like this advance trailer service? We hope that you like it for as you can see, it is quite an expensive bit of service. Extra, "PATHE NEWS, No. 60," the world's leading newspaper. Do you enjoy seeing it? Music by the mighty Electrola-Hyperion and the Seaburg Orchestra. Patrons declare the pictures are extremely fine of late. Some wonder how it is possible to get such grand pictures. Well, it is hard to do it—keeps us fighting hard all the time. But we are in better shape for good pictures now than ever.

A USELESS LAW

If ever there was a useless law placed upon the statute books of Georgia, it was that requiring five-days' notice of application for marriage license. The legislature has done well to repeal the law and to let it be recommended. It ought to have been done long ago. If the law has ever been any benefit to society, it is hard to imagine. Whatever the intentions of its proponents were, the total result has been to raise the cost of marriage licenses approximately 100 per cent. It has driven a few young people out of the state to marry.

The author of the measure perhaps had no thought of increasing the license fee when he framed his bill, but it was done automatically when it became necessary to file a separate application for each license. The law provided a charge of $2.00. This was added to the cost of issuing the license, and the total cost jumped from $2.25 to $4.25. Perhaps nobody was deterred from marrying on account of this increase, but numbers were driven out of the state in order to evade the five-days' notice requirement.

It was thus demonstrated that no protection was offered society. The very cases which the law was intended to reach found it easy to evade the law by leaving the state. Nobody was benefited except the officer who issued the license, and in many cases they lost as much, perhaps, through this migration from the state, as they gained by the law.

There are already sufficient laws to govern most cases. It may as well be recognized that perfect conditions can never be attained, and when it comes to controlling the intimate affairs of lovers, laws may change the course but they cannot stop them. When there are laws which apply alike in all the states, it will be possible to move nearly at will, and the Georgia law made it only necessary for the run-away couple to flee the state, and that was easy enough.

The average father has to be pretty sick before he will take action, and yet he'll want to kill the children because they don't take it cheerfully when mother wants them to.

WILDCAT SCHEMES

Slowing down of real estate business in the state of Florida has thrown an army of high-powered salesmen into idleness. Yet they are only human beings after all, and they have to live, and anything that offers an opportunity to line their pockets without a very great amount of toil appeals to them.

The result is that just now the country is being combed by a great number of salesmen, backing questionable schemes than ever before in its history. Oil and mining stocks, for long years the favorite wares of the fake salesmen, are still being pushed to the limit. But now catch schemes are being sprung that appeal to those who realize the vastness of the automobile field. Unnecessary and worthless accessories are being offered by those smooth-talking salesmen who could sell palm-leaf fans to the Eskimos if they could get to the North Pole.

Promoting the "companies" for the manufacture of auto specialties is also a favorite stunt just now. Of course, as the salesman pleases it, you can't help but get rich if you dabble in anything that touches the automobile field. They cite Henry Ford as an example. But they don't say anything about the hundreds of once-wealthy Americans who have lost all they had in the automobile business. They don't tell you that of the 450 million of automobiles started up in the United States in 25 years, only 60 are still being made.

Any day you expect to be approached by one of these high-powered salesmen for some get-rich-quick scheme. No matter how good it looks, go slow. Remember that there is only one safe way of doing business today—and that is to invest before you invest.

The old-fashioned boy whose mother used to get a bolt of goods and make shirts for the whole family at a cost of about five cents a shirt, now has a family of boys who would be deeply humiliated if they were asked to wear a shirt that cost less than $2.

CHEVROLET TEST CAR ENDURES EVERE GRID

By Ross Farquhar.

A romance of the General Motors proving ground at Milford, Michigan, comes to light today with the announcement that Chevrolet test car number 112 has been retired from the proving ground service after withstanding the withering strain of 46,150 miles in four and one-half months over various types of roads and a wide range of driving conditions.

Number 112 had a standard light delivery panel body on the standard commercial car chassis and had been taken out of regular production at the Flint plant. When, in the course of the usual routine, it was replaced at the proving ground by another Chevrolet, it still had in it many miles of unused transportation. Engineers declared, despite the grueling experience of so many miles of terrific test driving.

Forty miles out of Detroit in the hills and valleys of Livingston county, where the great outdoor automobile laboratory is located, this Chevrolet test car, like others there, underwent supreme tests in the cause of improved automobile transportation. In the course of these tests, the car was called upon to go through all the types of service an automobile may be heir to—and more.

It was kept on test for 135 days, "working" on an average of 341.8 a day. There were days when it was driven more than 800 miles in order to try its stamina. In addition to the test work at the proving ground, the car carried mail to Detroit and return each day, permitting of a study and check of the car under actual traffic conditions.

Engineers and technical men who drove and checked the car at the proving ground had in mind the many difficulties an automobile has to contend with in its lifetime. They thought of the driver who speeds his car over rough, rutted roads; they considered the motorist who rides his clutch; they had in mind the man who habitually tramps on his brakes, another who races a cold motor, another who asks his car to pull out of a mud hole in high, and so.

Although they realized at the same time that only a very small minority of drivers do these things today, they wanted to study the ability of the Chevrolet to withstand these abuses and to be constantly on the watch for developments that might further improve the product.

Although the proving ground boasts of some fine stretches of pavement, number 112, during the four and one-half months it was on test there, never left the gravel and dirt roads, except on its trips out of the grounds as a mail carrier.

Asked why, a Chevrolet engineer replied:

"Concrete makes it too easy!"

A woman can have four pairs of scissors on her lap while she is sewing, but that won't keep her from biting the thread.

CONSUMPTION OF FRUITS AND VEGETABLES DOUBLED

Atlanta, Ga., July 19.—Consumption of fruits and vegetables by the public in the south, as well as in the rest of the country, is now almost twice what it was ten years ago. This is shown by a study just completed by the Bureau of Railway Economics and made public by railroad executives in Atlanta today as to rail shipments during the past ten years of the sixteen principal fruits and vegetables grown in this country.

During the years 1917 to 1919, the annual average rail shipments of the sixteen principal fruits and vegetables amounted to 478,540 carloads. For the years 1924 to 1926 the annual average was 848,099 carloads, which was an increase of 77 per cent, compared with ten years ago. In contrast with this increase, the total population during that period increased only twelve per cent.

In general, according to the study, the greatest increases took place in those fruits and vegetables which, because of their highly perishable nature, have heretofore been regarded as luxuries, or delicacies, but now have become items of common consumption.

Increase in the common staples ran generally less than one hundred per cent; white potatoes, 60 per cent; sweet potatoes, 60 per cent; apples, 73 per cent; lemons, 66 per cent; cabbage, 26 per cent; onions, 54 per cent; and tomatoes, 33 per cent.

On the other hand, perishable products showed striking increases, such as excess of one hundred per Friday—Lettuce, for instance, increased 140 per cent; grapes, 216 per cent; grape fruit, 202 per cent, and celery, 188 per cent.

"The wide rail distribution of agricultural products throughout the United States, and the great increase during recent years in the production and shipment of the principal fruits and vegetables, leads to the conclusion that the transportation service rendered to these products by the railroads has been adequate, and that transportation of charges have not been too high," says the statement of the bureau of railway economics made public here.

It is certain that agricultural commodities could not be transported the long distances which they travel nor would they show the greatly increased shipments which they do, were the freight rates charged for their transportation excessive or out of line with the prices received at the markets.

PETITION FOR CHARTER

GEORGIA—Bulloch County. To the Superior Court of said County: The petition of L. H. Preetorius, W. S. Preetorius and John Booth, all of Bulloch county, Georgia, respectfully shew:

1. Petitioners desire the creation of a corporation by this court, under the name of STANDARD TAR & TURPENTINE COMPANY, for a period of twenty years, with the right of renewal, as provided by law, at the end of that period.

2. The object of said corporation is pecuniary gain to itself and its stockholders, and its principal office and place of business is to be in the city of Statesboro, Georgia, with the right, however, of maintaining branch offices and places of business elsewhere within or without said state.

3. The capital stock of said corporation is to be three thousand dollars, divided into shares of the par value of one hundred dollars each, all of which has been fully paid in, but it is desired that said corporation should have the privilege of increasing the same from time to time, by a majority vote of the stock, to an amount not exceeding fifty thousand dollars.

4. The business proposed to be carried on by said corporation is that of manufacturing, buying, selling, exporting, handling and dealing in tar, creosote, pitch, rosin, gum, pine oil, turpentine, paints, varnishes and other products, chemicals, compounds and by-products derived, distilled or manufactured from trees, stumps, time wood of any kind, manufacturing, buying, selling, and otherwise dealing in retorts, stills, machinery, equipment, materials and supplies of every kind for such business; buying and selling merchandise, lumber, wood, naval stores, live stock, vehicles and other property of any kind; acting as agent for other persons or corporations in any of said lines of business; and generally doing all other things as certain to or may be customarily done in connection with said lines of business.

5. It is desired that said corporation be given the usual and customary rights and powers given by the laws of the state to like corporations, including the right to make by-laws, to have and use a common seal, to sue and be sued, to buy, lease or otherwise acquire property of every kind, real and personal, and to hold, use, mortgage sell or otherwise deal with any kind of real estate to borrow money from time to time as the needs of the business may require; and to do all other things that like corporations in Georgia are empowered to do.

Wherefore, petitioners pray that said corporation be created, under the name and style aforesaid, with all the powers, privileges and immunities herein stated, and such others as are now or may hereafter be enjoyed and exercised by corporations of like character under the laws of Georgia.

HINTON BOOTH,

Attorney for Petitioners.

Filed in office this July 27, 1927.

WHAT A GROCERYMAN DID

Some time ago a young man started in the grocery business on a small scale in a nearby town. He had no capital and was in debt for a previous sickness in this family. But he had a cheerful disposition and pluck and he put into Bank small sums from time to time. Today he is supporting a family of three children; has a stock worth $2,500; a good trade; a nice Bank account and credit at the Bank. We have a number of people banking here with us who are making good largely because of their connection with us. Why not join them and carry your account here?

COOKING SCHOOL AND HOTPOINT ELECTRIC RANGE DEMONSTRATION

On July 25th and 26th, from 4 to 6 p. m., the Georgia Power Company very cordially invites the ladies of Statesboro, and earnestly desires your attendance at a two-day cooking school the electric way. The housewives of Statesboro are indeed fortunate in having this opportunity of listening to a national authority on the modern methods of cooking. Fully appreciating the ability of our southern cooks and acknowledging their well deserved fame the nation over, we know how eager they are to respond to every opportunity to learn of new methods in cooking new recipes and modern appliances that make their work easier and more pleasant with fewer hours spent in the kitchen.

The demonstration will take place at the old location of the Trappell-Mickel store in the rear of the Sea Island Bank building. Don't fail to be our guests at the time and place designated.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE MAKES FLAT DENIAL OF STATEMENT BY HEARST'S PAPERS.

Westville, O., Aug. 1.—Denial that the Anti-Saloon League ever had in mind or had attempted to start any movement toward impeachment of the President of the United States, as indicated by "some newspaper head-line statements," was made today in a statement issued from national headquarters by officials of the league.

The statement was drawn up in Detroit, made public here and at Washington and was signed by Bishop Thomas Nicholson, Dr. Arthur J. Barton, Bishop James C. Wilson, Jr., Dr. F. Scott McBride, Dr. Howard Hyde Russell, Wayne B. Wheeler and Ernest H. Harrington.

No newspaper was named, but the New York American on July 10 said a proposal to issue a proclamation charging President Coolidge publicly with misfeasance and malfeasance in office was debated and voted upon by the executive committee of the league in Chicago on November 8, 1925.

The statement declared that the stories about the alleged movement toward impeachment of the president "are as ridiculous as they are false."

The statement declared "every conceivable scheme" had been employed by the wets to shake public confidence in the anti-saloon league, that private detectives had trailed league officials, and that league officials had been broken into and their files pillaged, but that the league had "no fear of pitiless publicity as to facts."

Again referring to a New York American story, the statement asserted that the records of the league show that Rev. E. D. Edwards, the league's former legislative superintendent at Washington, was under no cloud of misconduct when he resigned from the league.

"The suggestion," said the statement, "that the Anti-Saloon League was an official or employee of the league improperly used government funds or that he or the league reimbursed the government to the extent of $10,000 is not only false, but is an illustration of the lengths to which the enemies of prohibition will go to discredit the league."

A statement had been published that the league had been threatened with a government investigation in 1919 for alleged misuse of $10,000 of government money by Dr. Dinwiddie, which had been appropriated for the expenses of the International Congress against alcoholism.

Extermination of the beverage liquor traffic was given as the league's object and methods under which the league operates were outlined.

MANY FROM STATESBORO WITNESS TOBACCO SALES

A hundred or more persons from Statesboro and vicinity attended the opening of the tobacco market at Metter Tuesday and witnessed the sales.

It was a live day for Metter, there being estimated to have been more than 1,000 persons present at the opening of the market. The reports indicate sales of approximately $1,000,000 of tobacco, at an average price around 20 cents per pound, which totals $10,000,000.

Many Bulloch county farmers, considerable quantities of tobacco in the sales and are much enthused over the prices obtained.

Metter has two big warehouses and both of them were filled on the opening day. So great was the crush of the salesmen that it was not possible to handle all that was in the warehouses and were forced to carry a large amount of it over for the next day's sales.

The reason daughter can always tell what is wrong with the spark plug when she is out in a car is because she hasn't enough mechanical genius to wash dishes when she is at home.

BETHLEHEM CEMETERY This is to notify all parties interested in the cleaning up of the Bethlehem cemetery that there will be a working at said cemetery on August 11, 1927. All parties interested will please be on hand.

SENATE KILLS TIME HINDERING GOVERNOR

SESSION NEARING END WITH VERY LITTLE ACCOMPLISHED SO FAR.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 1.—With only three more weeks left the 1927 Georgia legislature will face a crowded calendar. The anti-Hardman faction in the senate are beginning to realize that their constituents are asking for the enactment of reform laws of the present administration. According to statements made here today it is expected that the state capital, many senators find themselves facing stiff opposition to their tactics in blocking measures advocated by Governor Hardman.

It was pointed out that in the last election the voters expressed their choice for governor and sanctioned the elimination of John Holder on the highway board.

Governor Hardman has submitted two names to the senate, neither of which have been confirmed. This, in a way, is contrary to the expressed views of the voters of this state. It appears that the senate has assumed the attitude of being static and have no desire to co-operate with the governor. This position is undemocratic and is a detriment to the welfare of Georgia. Just as long as we have petty politics and factionalism Georgia will never get anywhere in constructive legislation.

The state's institutions are suffering, the highway department is ready for re-organization, and many other needed reforms that are essential in the growth and development of Georgia are being blocked. The tax question, which has for time immemorial been the chief topic of discussion at the state capital, will again be passed up by the legislature. Appropriations will be made without providing funds and other matters of importance passed by, all because the politicians have bandied themselves together and agreed to block any and all measures of the Hardman administration.

However, there is a noticeable weakening in the strength of the "insurgents" which is indicative of the fact that these members are being besieged by voters to forget their constituents in the manner for which they were elected. Old time politicians believe that the voters are beginning to bring pressure on their legislators for action for the good of Georgia. They are beginning to feel that they are being besieged by voters to forget their constituents in the manner for which they were elected. Old time politicians believe that the voters are beginning to bring pressure on their legislators for action for the good of Georgia. They are beginning to feel that they are being besieged by voters to forget their constituents in the manner for which they were elected.

His travels abroad took him to the Chevrolet assembly plants at Copenhagen, Antwerp and Berlin, which, like the American plants, are running at peak production. Mr. Knudsen noted that during the first six months of this year these three plants turned out more cars during the entire year of 1926, thus attesting to the overwhelming favor which the "Most Beautiful Chevrolet" is finding among European buyers.

In addition to inspecting these plants, Mr. Knudsen traveled extensively in Germany, Denmark, Belgium, Holland and France.

His visit to Copenhagen revived memories of his early life, for he was born and reared in this Denmark town. After being educated at the grammar and high school and the government technical school at Copenhagen, he apprenticed himself for a period of four years to gain a thorough knowledge of his trade. At the age of nineteen he left Denmark to make America his home.

Mr. Knudsen's advance here was rapid. In 1922 he became associated with the General Motors Corporation and shortly afterward was made vice-president in charge of operations of the Chevrolet Motor Company. On January 15, 1924, he was elected president and general manager of Chevrolet and a vice-president of General Motors.

Mr. Knudsen is expected back at the meeting, the latter says: "We meet August 10th in the country at Bethlehem Baptist church, which is near the City of New York, about 13 miles from Taylorville and about the same distance from Lenoir, N. C. We are expecting a large gathering of Dealers from all sections of the state. We hope you can come and have your brothers and many other Dealers to come with you."

CHEVROLET PRESIDENT RETURNS FROM EUROPE

William S. Knudsen, president and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, returned to Statesboro Tuesday for the second week in August from a combined business and pleasure trip to Continental Europe, which included a visit to his former home at Copenhagen, Denmark, the Chevrolet Motor Company announced.

Mr. Knudsen embarked for Europe late in May, and, according to advice from him, left Copenhagen on July 30, on the Swedish steamer "Gripsholm" for New York City. The steamer is due at New York about August 10.

His travels abroad took him to the Chevrolet assembly plants at Copenhagen, Antwerp and Berlin, which, like the American plants, are running at peak production. Mr. Knudsen noted that during the first six months of this year these three plants turned out more cars during the entire year of 1926, thus attesting to the overwhelming favor which the "Most Beautiful Chevrolet" is finding among European buyers.

In addition to inspecting these plants, Mr. Knudsen traveled extensively in Germany, Denmark, Belgium, Holland and France.

BULLOCH COUNTY DEALS INVITED TO RE-UNION

Through Albert M. Deal, leading member of the Statesboro bar, an invitation has been extended to the Deals of Bulloch county to participate in a family re-union of the Deals to be held near Hickory, N. C., on the 19th of the present month.

This invitation is extended by H. S. Deal of Spores Knob, N. C., who is chairman of the program committee, and carried with it the invitation for Albert Deal to be the principal speaker at this family gathering. He will accept the invitation, and it is regarded as entirely probable that other members of the family will accompany him.

Specifying the exact location of the meeting, the letter says: "We meet August 10th in the country at Bethlehem Baptist church, which is near the City of New York, about 13 miles from Taylorville and about the same distance from Lenoir, N. C. We are expecting a large gathering of Dealers from all sections
